Members of Local Company Are Preparing to Have Blue Prints
Made in Few Days.

WILL NOT EMPLOY ARCHITECT

Committee Made Trip to Cincinnati
Yesterday to Look at Machinery
They May Install.

The members of the local company which has organized to build a fifty thousand dollar furniture factory in accordance with their agreement after the lots in the Stewart & Tompkins addition to the Belmont addition have been sold, are making active preparations to begin work at once. The plans are being drawn up and the contract will be let for the building shortly after that.

The company will not employ an architect, but will prepare their own plans according to their own ideas. They are figuring now the probable shape and arrangement of the building but have not yet decided on anything definite. Several plans have been drawn up but the blue prints will not be made until the exact plan is decided on. One member of the company said this afternoon that there was no occasion to hire an architect since there were several men in the organization who have the ability to draw up the plans and they will be as they are wanted.

It is very likely that the company will depart from its original intentions to build a one-story machine room and a three-story finishing room. At present they are planning to make the whole factory a one-story affair with a spacious basement. They have also decided not to use the saw tooth roof as that is said to give too much light and is blinding to the men who work in the factory. They have another plan for the roof, which they believe will give better light and at the same time will not have the blinding effect.

It was thought at one time that the machine room floor would be of concrete, but that is not the case. They plan to make a solid wood floor which will consist of two-by-four lumber laid side by side and covered with same flooring material. The basement floor will probably be concrete.

It is very likely that the trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, yesterday by a committee will be the last one made by any member of the company. They planned to visit the Showers furniture factory in Bloomington this week, but that trip has been given up. The Showers factory is a modern one and it was thought that some good ideas could be obtained there.

Four members of the company, Robert L. Tompkins, Charles Baker, A. L. Stewart and Guy Abercrombie, together with Ira Felts, went to Cincinnati yesterday to look at some machinery which they plan to buy. One member of the company stated this afternoon that they had about decided on the kind of machinery which they would buy and that part of the work was practically finished.

BREAKS RIBS.

Enos Henley of Carthage is recovering from injuries which he received at the planing mill there last week, when he fell and broke one rib, fractured another and received several other minor bruises.

TO INSPECT HOME

The county commissioners of Rush and Henry counties will meet tomorrow and make a joint inspection of the orphans home in Spiceland. The inspection is the result of rumors to the effect that the home is not managed as it should be.

TRACK TEAM HAS TWO DATES

Locals Will Meet Connersville and Richmond High School.

A large squad of candidates for the high school track team has been reporting each evening for the practice and are fast rounding into condition. This year's team promises to surpass any that has ever represented the school and from the material the team promises to be strong in all departments. If the team makes a good showing it is probable that several of the men will be entered in the State meet. So far the management announces two contests. The first is with Richmond May 6, and the other with Connersville, May 13.

TO HOLD ANNUAL EVENT APRIL 21

Many Students Will Speak in Oratorical Contest to be Held in Graham School.

WINNER TO GO TO FRANKFORT

Arrangements have been completed for the holding of the annual oratorical contest in the Graham school assembly room on the night of April 21. The contest is held every year to select a representative to the State oratorical contest. This year there will be eight or ten contestants and the fight for honors promises to be a hard one as several of the students were in the contest last year and have had considerable experience in public speaking. The contestants have been working on their orations for several weeks and expect to be perfect by the night of the contest. Last year the State contest was held at Crawfordsville and this year the contest goes to Frankfort. The date set for this contest is May 12. The following high schools compose the association: Frankfort, Lebanon, Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Noblesville and Rushville.

MAY REMOVE THEIR HATS

Women Find Mirrors in Front of the Theater to Put on Bonnets.

The women patrons at the opening of the Portola Photoplay theater last night were gently asked to remove their hats when a request to that effect was thrown on the screen. The majority of them complied and then they were pleasantly surprised to read on the screen that they would find mirrors in the lobby where they could adjust their hats and straighten their ruffled hair. The same plan was adopted in Columbus recently.

SPELL IN HIGH SCHOOL

Students Are Busy Now Consulting the Dictionary.

When high school students are seen consulting the dictionary, it means that they are looking up the spelling of some word. The school authorities have started spelling in the high school and already several lessons have been held. It is planned to cover the list of words used in the State spelling bee in Indianapolis. The student who falls below a grade of seventy-five per cent must take all of the examinations.

MAY TAKE STAND ON TEMPERANCE

Expected That Would be Important
Part of Discussion at Presbytery
Meeting This Afternoon.

BROOKVILLE MAN, MODERATOR

Whitewater District Will Close Annual Session in Greensburg
Tonight.

The Rev. John B. Meacham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Frank Reynolds, lay delegate from the church, are in Greensburg, attending the sessions of the annual meeting of the Whitewater Presbytery, which will close tonight. The closing session will consist of a popular meeting when the general public is invited. At that time the Rev. F. W. Crossman of New Albany, superintendent of the Sunday school work in Indiana, will speak. The Rev. W. H. Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Connersville and formerly a pastor in Rushville, will also speak this evening. It is likely that several members of the local church will attend the meeting there tonight.

At the session today a number of important things of interest to the church were due to come up for consideration. What was planned to be the principal event of the day was the election of commissioners to the General Assembly of the church, which will be held at Atlantic City, N. J., in May. The nominations were made at the morning session but the election was not held until late this afternoon. The remainder of the morning was taken up with reports of the standing committees.

Probably the most important thing which was scheduled to take place this afternoon besides the election of the commissioners, was the discussion of the temperance situation at which time it was expected that the Presbytery would take some stand in regard to the liquor question. The report of the committee on home missions was also another important topic for this afternoon's program and is of special interest to the members of the First Presbyterian church. It was planned to take up the discussion of the proposition to change the beginning of the ecclesiastical year from April 1 to January 1, at this afternoon's session. The advisability of adopting the written examination plan for candidates to church membership instead of oral ones was voted on this afternoon.

The annual meeting opened last evening at seven o'clock, when the moderator, the Rev. S. W. Huffer of Liberty, delivered the first address. The Rev. Mr. Huffer presided and was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Davis of Lawrenceburg. After the sermon the Rev. J. S. Davis of Brookville was elected moderator of the Presbytery for the ensuing year.

MASHED HIS HAND IN MIXER

Charles Wilson Met With Painful Accident This Morning.

Charles Wilson, a driver employed by the Adams Construction company, met with a painful accident this morning. In some manner one of his hands was caught in the lever of the concrete mixer, splitting the thumb open and crushing and bruising the balance of his hand. The pain was so great that Wilson begged to have the thumb amputated but it is thought that this will not be necessary.

COON ATTACKS AGED PEOPLE

Vicious Animal, Property of Frank Pelham, Former Glenwood Druggist, Goes on Rampage.

INJURES SHELBYVILLE COUPLE

Bites and Severely Wounds Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wehmeyer--
Saved by a Relative.

Frank Pelham, the former Glenwood druggist who had a very brief career there after taking a young woman there as his bride following a very brief courtship, seems to have a great propensity for breaking into print. He left Glenwood suddenly, it will be remembered, his wife joining him later and finally ended up in Shelbyville, his home before he came to this county. A suit for divorce is now pending against him in the Shelbyville Superior court.

But it is not Frank Pelham's fault this time that he broke into limelight. It is the fault of his coon. Not that he has a valet but a pet animal which he keeps locked up in his woodshed. Last night the animal escaped and attacked two aged people in Shelbyville, badly injuring them and it was necessary to beat the animal off with clubs before it would be stopped. The Shelbyville Morning News says:

An ordinary raccoon was responsible for as much excitement in this city Monday night as would be caused by the appearance of a mountain lion, and the services of several persons were necessary before the animal had been placed where it could do no further harm. Before this had been accomplished, however, two aged persons had suffered severely from contact with the coon's sharp teeth, and their condition was such that a physician had to be called to attend them.

The sufferers were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wehmeyer. The coon was the property of Frank Pelham, their next door neighbor. Pelham kept the animal in a woodshed and the supposition is that it was half starved when it succeeded in escaping from the shed last evening at 8 o'clock as there has been no one at the place to look after it for several days.

It appeared on the porch at the Wehmeyer home and was seen by Mrs. Wehmeyer, who is about 65 years old and very feeble. She undertook to drive the unwelcome visitor away, but its actions indicated it had come to stay and it viciously attacked the woman, sinking its teeth deep into her leg and badly lacerating one of her ankles. Her screams aroused the neighbors throughout the entire block and they came running toward the Wehmeyer home anxious to know what it was all about. In terror Mrs. Wehmeyer sank to the floor of the porch and her aged husband next engaged the coon to drive it away from her.

The coon attacked the man and seemed to go over the man like a streak of lightning and he was bitten several times and was soon lying on the porch floor beside his wife.

William J. Peterson, son-in-law of the aged couple, was the only one who was able to drive the ferocious animal away. It boldly attacked him just as it had done the aged people, but soon found the conflict going against it and beat a retreat. Then it was chased into the woodshed by the combined efforts of a score of people and locked in.

A physician was called to attend the victims of the strange and unexpected attack. He found they had really been bitten severely, but that their suffering was due more to the nervous shock of the experience. The police were also notified and Officer McDonald responded. At first he intended to kill the coon but finally decided that it was best to let it alone till its owner could be consulted in regard to the case. Unless something is done by the authorities persons residing in the vicinity will likely take a hand as they do not care for any more experiences like the one of Monday night.

MRS. WESLEY LEVI EXPIRED

Died Last Evening at Home of Harrison Levi.

Jensie H. Levi, wife of Wesley Levi, died last night at the home of Harrison Levi in North Sexton street at seven o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Levi had been in this city only a short time, formerly living in New Castle. She was nineteen years old and death was due to tuberculosis. Besides her husband she is survived by a son, George. The funeral services will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon. Burial in East Hill cemetery.

MAY TAKE 60 DAYS TO INSTALL LIGHTS

Decorative Street Lights Are Being Placed in Position But Will Not be Lighted Tonight.

TO COMPLETE WORK FRST

"I have been busy this morning, telling people that the cluster lights would not be installed and ready for lighting tonight," said A. T. Mahin this morning, while overseeing the work of installing the pedestals in Main street near Third. "I can't see how that rumor was started that we would have the lights ready by tonight. It is preposterous to even think of such a thing for if these lights are ready in sixty days, the work will get on much better than I think it will."

Mr. Mahin explained all of the necessary little details to be gone through with before the lights will be connected and completed. It is necessary to cement around the conduits which protrude through the walk into the pedestal and carry the wires to the lamps. After the cement has been made it is necessary to bore through it again to bolt the pedestal to the sidewalk so that it will be stationary. All of the conduits have not yet been laid in Second street and will not be until the contractors finish the excavation for paving. Furthermore the city must wait until the contract for the curbing around the court house square has been let and put in as they will not lay the conduits there until that is started. It has been the intention from the first not to light any of the lights until they are all complete and can be lighted at once.

BASE BALL SEASON OPENS

American Association Starts Tomorrow in Indianapolis.

With the opening of the American Association season tomorrow, local fans who have been following the spring training of the Indianapolis team, predict that the Indians will rank well toward the front in the race for the pennant. Milwaukee will meet Indianapolis in the opener and several from here promise to be on hand to witness the contest. The Indians have quite a following in this city and as Rushville has no team they look to Indianapolis for their sport.

EXEMPTION TIME IS NEARING END

Mortgage Documents Must be Filed
Before May 1st to Get the Benefit of Law.

RUSH COMES ON LAST DAY

Many Persons do Not Understand
Measure and as a Result
They Lose Out.

Have you a mortgage on any of your real estate? If so, you had better file your mortgage exemption as required by law before May 1, or you will be compelled to pay extra taxes on all your property, including that which is mortgaged.

Many people do not seem to understand the provisions of the mortgage exemption law, even though it has been on the statute books for many years. Only a small per cent of the property owners of the country take advantage of the law each year, although it would save them a considerable amount of taxes.

It is necessary, when applying for exemption, to have the description of the property carefully filled out. Auditor Stone states that many persons fail in getting their exemptions because of the careless manner in which the application blanks are filled out. He declares that it pays to get a competent person to fill out the exemption regardless of the price that is charged.

The description in an exemption application must be as accurate as that in a deed and every person who desires to take advantage of the exemption should have the application filled out carefully and file it with the auditor between now and May 1. Up to this time there have been few applications filed, but it is better to have them filled out and file them as early as possible than to wait until the last minute when the auditor's force will be rushed with work.

SECOND MEETING TONIGHT

The meeting will be with Miss Zora Carney in West Seventh street Wednesday afternoon and at the Main Street Christian church on Thursday evening.

COMPENSATORY BILL PROPOSED

Duties On Agricultural Supplies to Be Lowered.

OFFSET TO RECIPROCITY BILL

In Order to Compensate the Farmers For What They Declare Is the Inequality of the Canadian Pact, the House Majority Proposes to Reduce Duties on a Hundred Articles the Farmer Must Have.

Washington, April 11.—The Canadian reciprocity bill will be submitted to the house and passed in advance of any other tariff legislation if the house Democrats in caucus tonight accept the recommendation of the majority of the ways and means committee. The Democrats of the ways and means committee have decided upon a tariff program which started off with Canadian reciprocity. This action on the part of the Democrats of the ways and means committee is gratifying to President Taft, who has been urging that reciprocity be taken up and passed as a separate proposition. While the Democrats have taken the president at his word in promising them fair play on other legislation and will act first on his pet legislative measure, they will lose no time after it is out of the way in passing several tariff revision measures.

The day after the Canadian reciprocity bill is reported to the house the majority of the ways and means committee, according to the plan to be submitted to the caucus tonight, will offer a bill lowering duties on agricultural implements and on supplies which the farmer is obliged to buy. There will be about a hundred articles in this bill, nearly all of the reductions designed chiefly for the benefit of the farmer. The items will be taken from a number of schedules and will include boots, shoes, reapers, plows, harness and saddlery, harvesters, twine, bagging and many other articles that draw upon the farmer's pocketbook in the course of the year. It was originally planned to attempt a revision of the schedule, but on second thought the Democratic leaders have decided to recommend the introduction of a sort of "companion piece" to the Canadian reciprocity bill.

It has been the cry of the insurgents and many regulars in the senate that they could not vote for the reciprocity agreement because it draws upon the farmer and gives him nothing in return. The bill which the Democrats will introduce immediately after the Canadian reciprocity agreement is designed to cut the ground from under these objections. It will in a measure compensate the farmer for the concessions that he is supposed to make in the proposed reciprocity agreement. The Republican insurgents in the senate found themselves in an embarrassing fix in the last session of congress as regards reciprocity, and the Democratic method of handling the subject is likely to put a much severer test upon their sincerity.

A revision of the woolen schedule will not be undertaken until the measure lowering duties on farming implements and supplies has been put through the house. There may be several more of those "pop-gun" tariff bills, all of them aimed at the necessities of life, before the Democrats quit tinkering with the tariff.

The senate Democrats are going to follow the example of their brethren on the house side and hold another caucus. They will not get together, however, until the latter part of the week.

Harvard Professor Says He Has Solved Riddle of the Sphinx.

Boston, April 11.—Professor George A. Reisner of Harvard university claims to have solved the riddle of the sphinx. He says it is a sculptured portrait of Cephre Chephren, a pharaoh of Egypt of the fourth dynasty, who ruled in the year 2850 B. C. "The sphinx is nothing but the body of a lion with the head of the king reigning at the time it was built," said Professor Reisner. "The great sphinx is the guardian of the sacred precincts of the second pyramid. The head is the portrait of the king who built the pyramid and whose artists carved the pyramidal sphinx out of a knob of natural rock."

THE MEANEST JOKER OF CURRENT RECORD

Spiral Tube Fire Escapes Doctored With Nails.

New York, April 11.—After the Asch building fire those in charge of the appraiser's store at 651 Washington street thought that it would be a good plan to try out the spiral tube slides with which the ten-story building is equipped and see how easily the 680 people in the building could get out. Word that the fire drill was to take place leaked out and somebody with a peculiar sense of humor sprinkled wire nails and screws on turns of the slide. So a day or two ago when the word came to get out and the men on the top floor hit the slide, there followed many yells and lots of bad language. The drill was called off.

Since then several of the employees have been taking their meals standing up, and they are wondering if the government will pay for the rents. An investigation, unofficial as well as official, is being conducted to find the joker. The men who slid are especially keen on the job, and it was hinted that if the man was caught he would be taken to the top floor and made to slide after the turns had been fixed especially for him.

SHOOK THE VATICAN

Earthquake Caused Excitement in Which the Pope Shared.

Rome, April 11.—A series of light earthquake shocks caused a panic throughout Rome and thousands of the inhabitants fled from their homes. The damage was slight in Rome, but reports from the surrounding country indicated that considerable devastation had been wrought.

The earthquake originated in the volcanic region of the Alban hills, where it was felt with increased intensity. The inhabitants of the towns in that section fled panic-stricken in all directions. In Rome the prisoners in the jails threatened to mutiny and attempted to break down the doors of their cells. Troops who were summoned had considerable difficulty in quelling the tumult.

The pope was considerably alarmed by the shock. He was giving an audience to the Marchioness Beatrice Theodoli, who has just joined the Roman Catholic church. The pontiff administered communion and confirmed her in his private chapel. The ceremony had just been concluded when the shock came. The pope immediately returned to his private chapel with the convert and her husband and friends, and the party spent an hour in prayer together.

Getting at the Facts.

Scranton, Pa., April 11.—Mine Inspector David J. Williams, in charge of the district in which the Pancoast mine at Throop is included has directed Coroner Saitrey to hold an inquest over the bodies of the seventy-three victims of Friday's disaster, and with the state and national authorities making inquiries, it is thought all the facts will come out.

Reforms in Tax Laws Sought.

Louisville, Ky., April 11.—Planning to insist that the next general assembly shall make sweeping reforms in Kentucky's tax laws, Edward F. Metzner, president of the Louisville Real Estate association, has issued letters to commercial organizations of the state asking for earnest protests against the system.

Broke Into the Safe.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., April 11.—The office of the August Wieman furniture manufacturing plant was broken into and the large iron safe robbed of $150 in cash, $50 worth of stamps and a number of valuable papers.

Con McAuliffe, managing editor of the Chicago Record-Herald, is dead.

ANTI-GAMBLING STATE LEAGUE

Situation At French Lick Arouses People.

MANY ARE PROMISING AID

Indifference of the Local Authorities to a Condition Which is Looked Upon as a Reproach to the State May Result in the Organization of a Force Which Can Effectually Handle the Situation.

French Lick, Ind., April 11.—The failure to enforce the law here against the big gamblers may result in the organization of a state anti-gambling league. Good citizens of other places, whose attention has been drawn to the fight here, are making inquiries as to the situation and are promising aid. Many other towns in southern Indiana have gambling joints, and it is believed that if gambling is stopped here it would be easier to close the joints in other places. Those who favor the state league say that a state-wide organization would have more influence than the efforts of a few citizens here. Steps will probably be taken in a few days to effect a preliminary organization of the proposed league.

HELD TO ANSWER

Gary Man and His Daughter Charged With Counterfeiting.

Gary, Ind., April 11.—In the arrest of Adam Racke, aged sixty-three, a farmer, and his daughter Mary, twenty-nine years old, who are held here, the police believe they have caught the persons who are responsible for a flood of counterfeit money that has appeared in Gary in the last few weeks. The prisoners were taken at their home, after small boys had shadowed them, at the instance of the police.

Three years ago secret service men raided the same house and arrested John Predem and several accomplices. Racke moved into the house a short time later. He says he made no money, but that he found a pot of it buried on the farm. According to the police, Racke has served time for making spurious money, and his son, John Racke, is now in prison at Fort Leavenworth.

MUST GO CAUTIOUSLY

When It Comes to Criticising the Modern Easter Bonnet.

Bedford, Ind., April 11.—"Oh, you new Easter hat; the frost will bite you!" when spoken in derision by one young woman to another, is provoke, according to Justice Iseminger of this city. Miss Leona Clark wore the hat. Miss Julia Underwood remarked the derisive remark. Miss Underwood was fined $1 and costs when Miss Clark complained. Miss Underwood has appealed to the circuit court.

Took Cream of Stock.

Indianapolis, April 11.—Skilled professional burglars are said to be responsible for a $700 robbery at Whitman's millinery store. Ostrich plumes of the finest quality, aigrettes, bird of paradise plumage and other such costly adornment was selected by the burglars with skill that astonished the proprietor of the establishment. Mr. Whitman says the cream of his stock was taken.

It Was a Close Vote.

Kokomo Ind., April 11.—The next session of the North Indiana M. E. conference will be held at Wabash. It required four ballots to decide on the next meeting place. On the first ballot Fort Wayne got 87 votes, Wabash 78, and Kokomo 24. On the fourth ballot Kokomo was dropped and Wabash got 99 votes and Fort Wayne 98.

Neighbors Lend Helping Hand.

Shelbyville, Ind., April 11.—Thirty men are at work rebuilding the cottage in which Timothy Lewis and daughter were killed at the time of the recent tornado in this county. The widow will be in her new home within three or four days. Money is being raised here to relieve some of the needy victims of the storm.

Will Flood Thousands of Acres.

Evansville, Ind., April 11.—Farmers along the lower Ohio river have received flood warnings from the local weather observer, who says the Ohio river here will pass the thirty-three-foot mark soon. This rise will flood thousands of acres of wheat.

Killed When Wagon Overturned.

Henryville, Ind., April 11.—Ernest Nofrey, aged twenty-one, was using a brake pole while going down a sidling hill. The wagon was loaded with heavy logs, and turned over, pinning the driver between two logs. He lived only a few minutes.

Widow Committed Suicide.

Logansport, Ind., April 11.—Mary Seward, aged sixty-five, widow of Mark Seward, a prominent farmer, shot and killed herself at the home of her daughter, ten miles south of Logansport. Ill health is given as the cause.

Caloric Fireless Cook Stove

It Bakes and Roasts
Stews, Steams and Boils

There is a vast difference between the "Caloric" and ordinary so-called "fireless cookers." It is far more efficient and useful. True, the price may be a trifle higher, but then the "Caloric" is worth more money, and in the end is less expensive than any other. It will pay for itself many times over in the saving of fuel and food to say nothing of time, labor and discomfort.

The "Caloric" is a complete cook stove and can be used the year around, winter and summer. In many homes it is considered an indispensable kitchen appliance and is used in the preparation of every meal. At every use it means both convenience and economy to the housewife—she is enabled to do something else while the "Caloric" cooks the meal.

We want you to see and examine these wonderful stoves and will gladly explain them to you upon request. You will be under no obligation to purchase.

THIS PAPER REPRESENTED FOR FOREIGN
ADVERTISING BY THEAMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATIONGENERAL OFFICES
NEW YORK AND CHICAGO
BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIESRoad Drags Economical.

That the pikes of Rush county are in a sad condition is heralded over the country by automobile enthusiasts and it is echoed back by the motorcyclists and all persons who have an occasion to travel over Rush county in any sort of a vehicle. That Rush county's roads are far behind improvements in all other lines in Rush county, there is no doubt and there are few farmers who will not admit that.

The road drag has been found to be the very best method to keep the country roads as well as city streets in the very best of condition. The road drag is what might well be called an inexpensive luxury. It is hardly a luxury. It is rather a necessity. But it is looked upon by most farmers and road supervisors as a luxury. They can be purchased for a much smaller price than a road scraper, will last much longer and will accomplish a manifold good. The road drag is made of a straight heavy piece of iron and could hardly be put up in any shape or form so that it could be made expensive.

Other counties have tried road drags and found them to be the most economical and withal that practical for keeping the county pikes in the very best of condition. Grant that the road drag costs more than the scraper, it will last longer and is much easier kept in repair. There are no wheels to rust and no steel scraper to break and bend. But it does not cost more.

The advantages of the road drag have been given in these columns before and it is hoped that road supervisors may be made to see the benefits that are to be derived from their use. All counties that have excelled in good road making in the past have placed the road scraper in the back-ground and have taken to the road drag like an airship to the ground.

It's time that Rush county got in line.

"Rushville is losing ground is the census returns can be compared with an unofficial census made in 1903 or 1904 by L. M. Bohland, now of Connorsville. At that time the census made by Mr. Bohland showed Rushville to have a population of 5075. The returns are just in from the census of 1910 and the official report shows Rushville to have a population of 4925.

The telegram stating these facts was received at Rushville Friday afternoon.

If any comparison can be made between the Bohland enumeration and that made under the auspices of the Government, Rushville has lost 150 citizens in six or seven years. Like Little Johnny, to whom the teacher had given out a problem of how long it would take a cat to climb out of a well fifty feet deep if he climbed up two feet and fell back three—how long will it take Rushville to become a city of ten thousand?

When the teacher asked Johnny how he was getting along with the problem Johnny answered—"Teacher if I had another piece of paper I would have that cat in H—l in five minutes."

The above is clipped from the columns of the Greensburg Democrat, edited by Walter Kaler, a former Rushville man. We are sorry that he could not think of anything better to say of Rushville, since we have pinned our faith to Rushville. We think the illustration is very poorly taken and comes about as near getting at the point as a duck does to water when it starts out across the Sahara desert.

We can at least say that we have a lot more faith in Rushville than we could have in Greensburg, especially since Walter couldn't make good in the newspaper business in Rushville and later went to Greensburg, where he now is apparently making a success with a daily. We at least have no tree growing in our court house tower. That's one thing to our credit even if we did not quite touch the five thousand mark. It might be well to remark that Walter's town only went 420 over that mark and we predict that more than that number will be the nucleus for an exodus of great proportions if they continue to read that paper.

Election Notice,

Which means that spelling in the high school a long time ago would not have been a bad idea.

Methodist preachers in North Indiana conference at Kokomo adopt resolutions, deploring the actions of the last legislature in their stand on the temperance question. You think they are right? So do we.

And the sunbonnet bazaar might be a good suggestion for some church society to take up.

They say that a macadam street is perfectly all right if you don't care what you say. And there's the noise of the brick street to be considered.

Which leads to the question who is to pay for the trouble which Main street business men may have since they have had to eat more than their allotted peck of dirt?

We understand that the city council once ordered the street commissioner to clean the paved streets. The wind has been doing the work.

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudet will show two reels of pictures tonight. The first is a Powers drama, "A Woman Without a Heart." The story told in this picture is very pathetic and deals with a social condition common in this country. The other picture is a Champion film, "Bill's Widow." This one is a comedy, showing many funny situations. A new song will be sung.

The Palace will offer a double program this evening with two reels of pictures. "Their Wedding Gift," and "Just as the Clock Struck" are two comic Essanay pictures which are said to be very good. The Kalem drama "Grandmother's War Story" is a war time tale in which the leading woman with the Kalem Stock Company is shown to advantage. Her versatility is displayed to a great advantage in reciting the story of the time of her forefathers.

The Star Grand will present two full reels of film tonight. The first is a Reliance drama entitled "From the Valley of Shadows." The grim reaper takes the idolized child of the cafe owner and his wounded heart is touched by the pitiful plight of the drunkard's wife and her babes. The call upon the man's better nature in the presence of death is highly dramatic and touching, and works his reformation. The second picture is an Imp entitled "The Dynamiters." It is a comedy. Earl Robertson will sing "Sweet Roses."

The opening of the new Portola theater last night far surpassed expectations as a crowd was attracted there that could not be taken care of by the management. Long before the doors opened for the first performance, throngs of people blockaded the sidewalk and made passing impossible. Many people were turned away and while the first show was in progress, a crowd of people that filled the sidewalk and extended out into the street, gathered. The last show closed at eleven o'clock after four hours of continuous performance, which was given to a crowded audience at each show. Over 700 people were in the theater last night.

The Portola is a very attractive and tastily arranged and decorated theater. The front presents a beautiful sight, as there are a number of electric lights so arranged as to show off well the designs that are used in embellishing the front of the theater. The interior is even as tasty. The seats are arranged with a view to best accommodate the patrons of the theater, so that they may see well and also be comfortable. The interior decorations are far above the average for a theater in a city of this size. The soloist, the music and, in fact, everything about the theater is good and the opening last night gives promise of a very bright career for the Portola.

We Two.

Mr. Grimm turned from Pennsylvania Avenue into a cross street, walked along half a block or so, climbed a short flight of stairs and entered an office.

"Is Mr. Howard in?" he queried of a boy in attendance.

"Name, please."

Mr. Grimm handed over a sealed envelope which bore the official imprint of the Department of War in the upper left hand corner; and the boy disappeared into a room beyond. A moment later he emerged and held open the door for Mr. Grimm. A gentleman—Mr. Howard—rose from his seat and stared at him as he entered.

"This note, Mr. Grimm, is surprising," he remarked.

"It is only a request from the secretary of war that I be permitted to meet the inventor of the wireless percussion cap," Mr. Grimm explained carelessly. "The negotiations have reached a point where the War Department must have one or two questions answered directly by the inventor. Simple enough, you see."

"But it has been understood, and I have personally impressed it upon the secretary of war, that such a meeting is impossible," objected Mr. Howard. "All negotiations have been conducted through me, and I have, as attorney for the inventor, the right to answer any question that may properly be answered. This now is a request for a personal interview with the inventor."

"The necessity for such an interview has risen unexpectedly, because of a pressing need of either closing the deal or allowing it to drop," Mr. Grimm stated. "I may add that the success of the deal depends entirely on this interview."

Mr. Howard was leaning forward in his chair with wrinkled brow intently studying the calm face of the young man. Innocent himself of all the intrigue and international chicanery back of the affair, representing only an individual in these secret negotiations, he saw in the statement, as Mr. Grimm intended that he should, the possible climax of a great business contract. His greed was aroused; it might mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to him.

"Do you think the deal can be made?" he asked at last.

"I have no doubt there will be some sort of a deal," replied Mr. Grimm. "As I say, however, it is absolutely dependent on an interview between the inventor and myself at once—this afternoon."

Foley's Kidney Pills.

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mrs. Eli Cullers, Huntington, Ind., says: "I have been troubled severely with kidney trouble for some time and recently it became much worse. My kidney action was much too frequent and I suffered from a severe pain over the back. However, a few doses of Foley's Kidney Pills were all that was necessary to completely correct these ailments and thanks to Foley Kidney Pills which I gladly recommend." F. B. Johnson & Co.

Good results always follow the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They give prompt relief in all cases of kidney and bladder disorders. Try them. F. B. Johnson & Co.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST.

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

BRONCHITIS

To Whom it May Concern.

Bluevale, Ont., May 4, 1910. "I was sick for two years with chronic bronchitis and a consequent run-down condition. I received no benefit from doctors or from a trip which I took for my health and I had to give up work. Vinol was recommended and from the second bottle I commenced to improve—I gained in weight and strength, my bronchial trouble disappeared and I am at work again. I want to recommend Vinol to anyone who is in need of such a medicine." Thomas Higgins. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

It is the combined action of the curative elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in curing bronchitis.

Vinol is a constitutional remedy for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and pulmonary troubles, not a palliative-like cough syrups.

Vinol contains no oil or drugs and is far more efficacious than cough mixtures, because it cures the cause. Try it. If you don't think it helps you we will return your money. F. B. Johnson & Company, druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

"I Have Been Cast Off by That Government, Stripped of My Rank, and Branded as a Traitor!"

stopped and fought back for emotions, then went on: "But you must not come in; you must go away at once. Your—your life is in danger here."

"How did you know I was coming?" inquired Mr. Grimm.

"From the moment Mr. Howard telephoned," she replied, still hastily, still in the mysterious half whisper. "I knew that it could only be some one from your bureau, and I hoped that it was you. I saw how you forced him to call us up here, and that was all you needed. It was simple, of course, to trace the telephone call." Both of her hands closed over one of his desperately. "Now, go, please. The Latin compact is at an end; you merely invite death here. Now, go!"

Her eyes were searching the listless face with entreaty in them; the slender fingers were fiercely gripping one of Mr. Grimm's nerveless hands. For an instant some strange, softening light flickered in the young man's eyes, then it passed.

"I have no choice, Miss Thorne," he said gravely at last. "I am honor bound by my government to do one of two things. If I fail in the first of those—the greater—it can only be because—"

He stopped; hope flamed up in her eyes and she leaned forward eagerly studying the impassive face.

"Because—?" she repeated. "It can only be because I am killed," he added quietly. Suddenly his whole manner changed. "I should like to see the—the inventor?"

"But don't you see—don't you see you will be killed if—?" she began tensely.

"May I see the inventor, please?" Mr. Grimm interrupted.

For a little time she stood, white and rigid, staring at him. Then her lids fluttered down wearily, as if to veil some crushing agony within her, and she stepped aside. Mr. Grimm entered and the door closed noiselessly behind him. After a moment her hand rested lightly on his arm, and he was led into a room to his left. This door, too, she closed, immediately turning to face him.

"We may talk here a few minutes without interruption," she said in a low tone. Her voice was quite calm now. "If you will be—"

"Please understand, Miss Thorne," he interposed mercifully, "that I must see the inventor, whoever he is. What assurance have I that this is not some ruse to permit him to escape?"

"You have my word of honor," she said quite simply.

"Please go on." He sat down.

"You will see him too soon, I fear," she continued slowly. "If you had not come to him he would have gone to you." She swayed a little and pressed one hand to her eyes. "I would to God it were in my power to prevent that meeting!" she exclaimed desperately. Then, with an effort: "There are some things I want to explain to you. It may be that you will be willing to go then of your own free will. If I lay bare to you every step I have taken since I have been in Washington; if I make clear to you every obscure point in this hideous intrigue; if I confess to you that the Latin compact has been given up for all time, won't that be enough? Won't you go then?"

Mr. Grimm's teeth closed with a snap.

"I won't want that—from you," he declared.

"But if I should tell it all to you?" she pleaded.

"I won't listen, Miss Thorne. You once paid me the compliment of saying that I was one man you knew in whom you had never been disappointed." The listless eyes were blazing into her own now. "I have never been disappointed in you. I will not permit you to disappoint me now. The secrets of your government are mine if I can get them—but I won't allow you to tell them to me."

"My government," Miss Thorne repeated, and her lips curled sadly. "I—I have no government. I have been cast off by that government, stripped of my rank, and branded as a traitor!"

"Traitor!" Mr. Grimm's lips formed the word silently.

"I failed, don't you see?" she rushed on. "Ignominy is the reward of failure. Prince d'Abruzzi went on to New York that night, cabled a full account of the destruction of the compact to my government, and sailed home on the following day. I was the responsible one, and now it all comes back on me." For a moment she was silent. "It's so singular, Mr. Grimm. The fight from the first was between us—we two; and you won."

STOKES JACKSON THE CENTER OF A STORM

Proposed Appointment Raising a Row in Washington.

Indianapolis, April 11.—For several days the mails and telegraph wires between here and Washington have been carrying messages from Democratic congressmen to influential Democrats here, urging them to influence State Chairman Jackson if possible to stand by agreements made in his name when he was elected sergeant-at-arms of the house. It is said that Jackson proposes to appoint his son to one position and his son-in-law to another; both of which his supporters promised should go to other states. It is said that Ryan of New York, Jackson's opponent, was defeated in the Democratic caucus through these pledges, and now Jackson denies that anyone was authorized to make such pledges for him. The writers of the letters and telegrams say that Jackson's refusal to stand by the promises of his friends will shut Indiana out from everything in the future and that it will even militate against Governor Marshall for the presidency.

Whether the pressure on Jackson will have any effect is very doubtful, but he is being urged on all sides to give the places where they were promised.

BIG STRAWBERRY CROP.

Local fruit growers say the prospect for a big crop of strawberries this spring is better than usual. Unless freezing weather comes within the next few weeks, there will be big crops of all kinds of fruit.

SUNNY MONDAY

There is not an ounce of rosin in Sunny Monday Laundry Soap. Rosin is used in all other laundry soaps—because it is cheaper than the fats and oils used in Sunny Monday. Sunny Monday costs more to manufacture than any other laundry soap of which we know. It is kind to clothes—will not shrink flannels or woollens, or turn clothes yellow.

Sunny Monday is just as pure as its whiteness indicates; it is the safest and most economical laundry soap you can use.

EMBERS OF OLD FEUD FANNED INTO FLAME

The White-Deaton War Revived At Jackson.

Lexington, Ky., April 11.—"Devil" Anse White shot and killed Jason Deaton, wounded Luke Begley and was himself shot in the thigh, and Breathitt county again faces a feud war. Deaton and Begley went fully armed to the home of White to settle an old grudge. White was quicker on the trigger, firing two shots at Deaton, which felled him, then, turning his attention to Begley, shot him through the head and shoulder. In the meantime Deaton fired, his shot taking effect in White's thigh. White then turned his revolver upon the fallen man again and with two more shots through the head, finished him. Reports from Jackson, White's home, say that the friends and relatives of the two factions are on their way to the scene of the battle, armed to the teeth. Deaton was one of the men accused of aiding in the killing of John Abner in Jackson last summer. Abner was a brother-in-law of White, and it is believed the killing was the result of the bitter feeling over that assassination. No arrests have been made, as no one dares interfere.

THE PASSING OF TOM L. JOHNSON

Death Finally Relieves Long Sufferings.

HIS LAST CONSCIOUS WORDS

"I Feel So Happy—Everything Is All Right," Mumbled the Stricken Man, His Lips Just Tracing the Words—All Members of His Family at Bed-side When End Came—Brief Sketch of an Active Career.

Cleveland, O., April 11.—As he slept death took Tom L. Johnson, four times mayor of Cleveland. He died at 8:47 o'clock Monday night. His end came as his weeping family sat around his bed at the Whitehall. For hours they had expected death at any instant. Mr. Johnson's last conscious words were said at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning.

"Oh, I feel so good," he murmured, his lips just tracing the words. "I had such pleasant dreams. Everything is all right. I feel so happy."

Mr. Johnson lay in the borderland between life and death for twenty-four hours before death won him. The coma which preceded death was the sign that cirrhosis of the liver and Bright's disease had run their course.

Mrs. Johnson, his two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Mariani and Loftin Johnson and Mrs. Loftin Johnson were at the bedside when Mr. Johnson's breathing stopped.
Tom L. Johnson was born in Scott county, Kentucky, in July, 1854. His parents named him Thomas Loftin, but nobody ever called him anything but Tom L. He was big and breezy and Tom L. fitted him much better than the more dignified appellation. When he was a small boy his parents moved to Staunton, Virginia, and there he formed the first monopoly of his career. In those days there was only one mail a day to Staunton and young Johnson secured the privilege of handling all the newspapers and periodicals that came to town. He got 15 cents for the daily papers and 25 cents for illustrated publications and cleared $88 in a very short time on that speculation. It was the first big money he had ever handled and it gave him his start in life. With that capital he went to Louisville and went to work for the street railroad company. Then he moved to Indianapolis, got an interest in the old street railroad company there and in a year or two became its manager. Before he was 22 years old he owned a controlling interest in the stock of the company and was worth half a million.

Next he tried Cleveland, bought an interest in a one-horse street railroad line in the outskirts of the city, made money out of it, consolidated it with another line and within a year was the master of the trunk system. His fortune grew rapidly. He acquired iron foundries and street car lines in other cities and went in for politics. In 1888 as a free trader and single taxer, he ran for congress in the Cleveland district and was defeated. He tried it again in 1890 and was elected easily. Two years later he was re-elected by the surprising plurality of 3,200 in a republican district. He was first elected mayor of Cleveland in 1901 and served four successive terms, retiring on January 1, this year, after his defeat in the three-cent fare campaign.

It was his ambition to become president of the United States and he was mentioned several times as a possible candidate of the Democratic party. In 1903 he was nominated by the Ohio Democrats for governor but he was decisively beaten.

LED TO CONVICTION

Print of Horse's Shoe Pointed Out an Illinois Murderer.
Danville, Ill., April 11.—Fred Garner, scion of one of the wealthiest families in northern Illinois, was convicted, through the print of a horse's shoe in the ground, of the murder of Mrs. Elsie Cochran.
Mrs. Cochran's body was found in the middle of a field near town, Oct. 28. On the ground near by were found marks of a peculiar horseshoe. The marks were traced to Garner's horse, and, although he denied knowing the woman, the clue led to his conviction. The jury fixed the penalty of his act at twenty years in prison.
